

LONG BEACH.

LECTURES DELIVERED BEFORE THE ASSEMBLY.

The Parables Discussed by the Bible Training-class—Dr. Spencer's Address on "The Golden Now"—"Personal Work" Considered by Rev. J. M. Hiltibish—Concert by the Jingler Company.

Rev. Dr. Bresce led the devotional exercises at the opening of the Long Beach Assembly yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. The Bible training class met at 9 o'clock, with the Rev. Mr. Bailey leading. The subject for the morning's discussion was "The Parables." In the beginning the disciples were surprised that Christ should speak to them only in parables. The parabolical mode of Christ's teaching, in which the truth was hidden to some extent, was the most helpful way to us, as it caused us to search for truth. Another benefit of parables is that they illustrate the unity existing between earthly and heavenly thoughts.

At 11 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Young of Long Beach gave a lecture on the subject, "Ten Years in Alaska." This was one of the most interesting lectures which has been given before the Assembly.

The speaker said: "In the fall of 1879 I was in a little village in Alaska in the house of a chief named Shat Hitch, which means 'hard to kill,' and whose scarred face seemed to justify the name he bore. He wore a blanket which was greatly prized. I brought him a present to Shat Hitch, which he purchased Alaska. People laughed at that purchase. They called it 'Uncle Billy Seward's potato patch,' and some seem to think it not much better than that still. It was purchased at a cost of $7,200,000, and Seward called this the crowning work of his life. It is a vast expanse of country, equal to the United States east of the Mississippi River, with the State of Mississippi excepted. Its coast line is greater than the whole of the United States. The climate, like that of Scotland, is very wet, and the winters are mild. My remarks I will confine to my experience, which was in Southeast Alaska. We took boat at Seattle. The trip is a most beautiful one. The waters are calm and clear as an inland lake. Yo Semite will not compare with it in scenic grandeur. I was sent to Alaska by the Presbyterian Church.

"The restless miner is exploring, developing and bringing to the front this wonderful land. The aurora borealis which brightens the Alaska sky in the starlight is one baffling all description. The people are firmamented in a huge crown of glory. As the darkness of the night is thus driven back, so gospel-light is spreading brightness all over this north-western portion of our empire. The early history was a struggle for light. It is easier to make an Indian of a white man than to make a white man of an Indian. The kind of civilization which for fifteen years had existed tended to make our work very hard. But there were some stars in the darkness. First, in the Indians themselves. They are anxious for civilization which they gladly welcome. The home in which they live gives some idea of its condition. I could tell you some wonderful lab stories. A female missionary was asked by an Indian if she wanted a fish. She replied, 'Yes, if it was a good large one' and was assured it was. She paid the price 25 cents, and shortly after two men were seen coming with it, carried on a pole across their shoulders, and placed before her a halibut weighing 150 pounds. Last year Alaska had more than one-third of all salmon in the world. The forests are full of game. In two weeks' hunting we killed 68 deer. The land is so productive that it is very easy for people to make a living. I wish to speak of the treatment the natives give to their women. In Southeast Alaska women's rights prevail. Women have their say in the councils of the land. I have seen the chief, after making a bargain, have his bargain vetoed by his wife, who didn't approve of the purchase. Men often go to the minister with scratched faces, which they have received from their wives, because of their mother is worth a pound of clergy. This is true indeed. Get the mothers and you control the future of our sons. The missionary meets difficulties in the language. They have no words to express faith, salvation, repentance and holiness. I heartily approve the effort of the Indian Bureau to compel the English language to be taught in all our Government-aided schools. Superstition prevailed for a time. They had no written language. No well-established system of law, government or religion. They had some half gods, but they had no God to them. They believe in future sins which they think is a grand state of doing nothing. Witchcraft is very prevalent. The Indian medicine man is a fiend incarnate. He claims to be in communication with a familiar spirit. If he knows a man is incurable he says, 'Your friend is bewitched.' In Fort Wrangle I had to fight the whole tribe on this line, but by persistent effort we succeeded. I cut off some of the hair from the medicine men as far as strength, like Samson, lay in their locks.

"The sin of drunkenness, introduced by the whites, was prevalent among the people. They taught the Indian to make native drink which made demons of the people. In 1880, after organizing a church and beginning to reach the people, another tribe, through drunkenness, attacked ours, and in the battle which followed some of our best men were slain and our work set back greatly.

"Our hope is in the children. Our industrial schools are doing grand work. My particular efforts were the most enjoyable part of my work. I made an excursion on one occasion to climb a mountain 8000 feet high. Within 40 feet of the top I came to a slide, at the bottom of which was a precipice. I jumped upon a stone which slipped with me. The fall dislocated both my shoulders. With my chin and feet I caught the edge of the precipice, where by miraculous effort I was saved by Mr. Muir, my companion.

The most effective performance speech I ever listened to was from Shakes, who was our greatest chief. He gave a feast at the birth of my child, and on that occasion gave the girl a name. After the feast speeches followed. The chief, when he spoke, said: 'Do you see that post, Mr. Young? That was our oracle. To it we have sacrificed slaves.' Turning to the image, he said: 'O, thou image of my father, the hope of our nation, look upon us. Speak to me! Tell me how to save my people, who are fading away.'

You are false, you image. Here (taking a Testament) is a voice which speaks to me! Thus the work goes on. Fifty teachers and missionaries are there. The darkness has almost given up the struggle, and the civilization of the Son of God is at hand.

Specimens of native work were shown. Native blankets, a violin carved out by one of our boys with a pocket-knife, an old weapon, a painting of an Indian river, a coat woven in one piece, with the family emblem inscribed, rings and bracelets, horned spoons, moccasins, cooking utensils, and many other articles of interest.

The audience was requested to ask any question, and is reply much valuable information.

At 1:30 p.m. Rev. Dr. Spencer of New York, secretary of the Board of Church Extension of M. E. Church, was called on to give an address on "The Golden Now." The Doctor prefaced his remarks with the song "He Wants Them All to Come to Him."

He said:

"I make no excuse for being here today. I started out for a journey of 12,000 miles in six weeks. Like some medicine I have been well shaken while being taken. For 15 years I have averaged one lecture a day. Before that I took a trip around the world, and it made me so healthy that I have been running at the mouth ever since.

If there ever was a golden period in the history of our nation it is now. No generation, no people ever had such opportunities. Population used to be scattered, but now all the world is next door. I can now travel in one hour in the lightning express what used to take a day. I have a special of 20 cars from San Francisco, loaded with wool, passed through this city, bound for Boston. Night before last two specials, of 20 cars each, passed through on their way to Boston.

Night before last quite a serious fight took place in the baggage-room of the Wolfkill depot. It seems that several passengers approached Frank Townson, assistant baggage-master, and asked him some questions about the transfer companies. As it happened, Townson's master, Frank Towson, was passing by, when he heard Townson refer them to another company, he thought he was being slighted, and as soon as the passengers turned their backs, he stepped up to Townson and politely informed him that he had no right to show preference for any of the transfer companies. Townson, who is a very dignified fellow resented what was imagined to be an insult, and when Giette replied rather sharply the baggage-man smashed him in the mouth. The man who was much the smaller of the two, but his mad rose to white heat, and quicker than a flash he was on the baggage master. Fifteen or twenty railroad men were near by, and when they saw how things were going they made up their minds to see the fight out.

The fight was a hot one, but the little trumper was too quick for his antagonist, and in less than four minutes he had succeeded in closing one of his eyes and decorating his mouth in a most beautiful manner.

He was laid with several scratches, which did not allow eyelid.

Frank Jones, superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company, who has been down here several days, inspecting the lines, left for San Francisco yesterday on the 1:30 train.

S. B. Floto, superintendent of the telegraph system of the California Central and the California Southern, went to Redondo Beach yesterday.

A big Burlington excursion will leave this city for the East tomorrow night.

EXCURSION RATES.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat publishes the following in regard to excursion rates:

The Western States Passenger Association has authorized the rate of excursion fare for the round trip on the following occasion: The Stenographic Association convention, Des Moines, Iowa, July 18th to 17th; fare and one-third from points in Iowa, Missouri, Chautauqua Assembly, Peoria, Springfield, Mo., July 17th to 18th; fare and one-third from points in Iowa, Missouri, Twin City Jockey Club running meeting, St. Paul, Minn., July 23d to 31st; fare and one-third from points within a radius of 200 miles of St. Paul and Minneapolis. The rate of $14.25 were the associates of the poor white trash of Judes. God forbid that we should be compelled to pay that rate.

PACIFIC COAST.

Another Day of the Blythe Contest.

Florence's Mother Tells of Meeting the Millionaire.

A Despondent Railway Agent Suicides at Wildomar.

What San Francisco Merchants Say About the Prospects of a Higher Wheat Market—Coast Notes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—[By the Associated Press.] In the Blythe contest today Attorney John A. Wright testified that, in company with several friends and employees of Blythe, put seals on Blythe's safe the day after the latter's death. On April 6, 1883, the safe was opened and search made for a will, which was not found at that time or subsequently. Some photographs of Florence Blythe were found, also a lock of hair marked "Florence's hair."

Mrs. Julia Ashcroft, née Julia Perry, mother of Florence, was then called to the station and was asked to verify her meetings with Blythe in London.

A slip of paper, torn from Blythe's notebook, on which he had written his name and the number of his residence, where she afterward met him, was also introduced in evidence.

THE COASTS' INTERESTS.

An Important Contest to Be Held at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—[By the Associated Press.] Matters of considerable importance were to have come before the Chamber of Commerce at its quarterly meeting today, but a quorum was not present. Communications were on the table from the Treasury Department and from William L. Merry. The letter from Washington was in reply to the memorial relating to consular certificates, and Capt. Merry's communication called attention to the danger to the commerce of the coast from British invaders. He said that the Government desired to concentrate maritime commerce at the western terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the writer asked that a special meeting of all business associations in San Francisco should be called to confer with the California Representatives at Washington, on matters of vital importance to this and neighboring maritime cities.

The permanent establishment of ocean mail, the opening of the interstate commerce to the American coast, carrying trade, maritime defense of Pacific Coast ports, an ocean telegraph cable to Australia, the construction of the Nicaragua Canal, and increased energy in the construction of the navy, will be discussed at the conference.

THE WHEAT MARKET.

How European Reports Are Received at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—[By the Associated Press.] News from London printed here this morning regarding the unfavorable outlook in the wheat market created much comment among grain dealers today.

Charles B. Stone, of the firm of Searies & Stone, said: "All the markets throughout the world are weak except this one. We are paying here today $1.50 a ton more for wheat than we could realize if we chartered ships to England and sold our wheat there. One thing is certain, there will either be a very sharp decline in the price of wheat in the price in England."

William Dreback, the veteran grain dealer, said: "Whether the American market will control that of Europe will depend entirely upon the prevailing crop of France and England. The outlook for the market here is good. I would not be surprised to see the English market go higher very soon."

J. Green said: "Merchants have made higher prices in Europe, are paying higher prices for wheat than in any other market in the country, and I think we will pay still higher prices."

TIRED OF LIFE.

WILDOMAR, July 16.—[Special.] J. W. Nichols, agent and operator for the California Southern Railroad here, committed suicide at 11:35 this morning. Mr. Nichols has seemed melancholy and despondent ever since he has been here. No other cause is known for the act.

THE DAY ROBBERY.

Four Men Arrested for the Crime.

The police are getting at the bottom of the Day highway robbery, which occurred on New High street about 12 o'clock Saturday night. As published in THE TIMES, Day is book-keeper and cashier for the firm of Henry Gibson & Co., on Los Angeles street, and while not enjoying himself he was set upon by a gang of five men, and relieved of $88, after having his eye blacked and his face bruised. As he was pretty well under the influence of liquor, he could not give a very clear account of the affair, but from what he did know Detective Glass arrested a young man named Conrey, alias Williams, Monday, who was locked up on suspicion. Enough was learned yesterday to warrant the arrest of three others, Harry Howard, J. C. Jones, and J. P. Donegan, who were found by Detectives Wallin and Jennings at the corner of Spring and Second streets. These young men were brought before Judge Stanton, where they were arraigned on a charge of robbery, and placed under $1500 bail each to appear on the 18th, when the examination will be held.

Arrested for Fast Driving.

Felipe Yorba was arrested by Officer Hoff yesterday, on a warrant charging him with fast driving, and was taken before Judge Stanton, when he gave bonds for his appearance and was released. Mr. Yorba says that on Monday afternoon he was notified that his child was in a dying condition, when he jumped on his horse and started on a dead run for his home. He found the child's condition very critical, and at once went for a doctor. He says that the policeman hailed him, but, owing to the urgency of the case, he did not stop, but would have explained matters to the officer if he had called him on before swearing out a complaint.

SANTA MONICA.

Disappearance of the Lone Hackman—Bills Galore.

SANTA MONICA, July 16.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] When about ten weeks ago a hackman made his appearance on the streets of Santa Monica and commenced to cater for public patronage, the citizens felt much elated at having attained another metropolitan institution. The owner of the outfit rejoiced in the name of Dexter, and hailed from San Bernardino, having quitted that inland burg on account of the scarcity of shucks thereabout. He must have been sadly disappoited, though, after he had been here about a week, for it was a case of out of the frying-pan into the fire, and it became a matter of comment that he never had a fare. He would meet every train with a regularity that was painful, and the joyous smile that would overspread his countenance when some one approached his vehicle would be turned into a gloomy expression of deep despair as they simply inquired the direction to town, and went their way on foot. It is like the celebrated lone fisherman, he turned in everywhere, and the only time that words of complaint were ever wrung from his lips was when he was asked to contribute the use of his back and team to the city for the Fourth of July procession. One day he had a patron, a young fellow whose notions evidently were above the leveling plane of the street car, but by this time the sorrowing hackman had so soured against human nature that he had built up for himself the reckless feeling of a losing gambler, and, after being asked to make the fare, refused to do so, saying that he did not believe he wanted to drive town any more that day. On Sunday morning last he entered the Beville stable, where his outfit was located, hitched up as usual and drove away. The noon train came in and lo! he was there to meet it, this event being noteworthy enough to create a profound sensation. The day became evening and the evening shadowed into night, and still Dexter came not, so the rumor went about that he had decamped. Such proved to be the case on investigation, so yesterday morning Seaford Bartle, his creditor, to the tune of $100, arrived at the stable, and the constable has been dispatched with orders to place his outfit in limbo.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The good people of the Christian Church held an enjoyable ice-cream sociable this evening. An excellent musical and literary programme was given. Ice cream and cake were served, and a general good time had by everybody present. The church is without a pastor.

F. M. Sommers and wife gave a complimentary tea last evening, and many people have disappeared from my face."

Nannie—True, true. What did you get rid of them?"

Emma—"Why, I used a Debray's Sultana Cream and Lotion. It never fails and will remove the crow's feet from the corners of your eyes."

"GIVING PERFECT SATISFACTION."

J. W. Ross, Pasadena, writes: The Times-Mirror Sewing-machine is giving perfect satisfaction. My opinion is it is as good as any machine I have ever seen. Any heavy work on it yet, but I think it will do it all right.

"HIGHLY PLEASANT WITH IT."

Mr. Edwin Brown, Los Angeles: In reply to your of July 16, I would state that I am highly pleased with the Premium Sewing-machine I received with the attachment. Great satisfaction: so easy to learn how to manage; does such excellent work; in fact cannot raise it too much, and would not take twice the amount it costs me.

"THE MORE YOU USE THE BETTER WE LIKE IT."

Mrs. S. A. Ward, Pasadena: I have had your sewing-machine since last July. The more we use it the better we like it. On one and heavy work it is splendid. We have tried every attachment. It is a great省 of time.

"IT IS BETTER THAN THE $150 MACHINE."

Joseph Wilson, Los Angeles: The machine gives entire satisfaction. My wife likes it better than any other.

Oxygen, Compound Oxygen, Nitrous Oxide, and other inhalations, used in all DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.

We have introduced the compound oxygen treatment with our systems of practice in the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Diphtheria, Inflammation of the Cervix, Rheumatism and Nervous Prostration, while the most improved methods are employed in all female complaints.

As is well known, oxygen is the life-giving principle in the air we breathe, and oxygen in the air imparts a happy and buoyant atmosphere. Stores of oxygen often require more oxygen than is in the air around them, and cause doors and windows to be open, and the oxygen is then to be used to call for a fan to disperse the stifling and bring fresher air or more oxygen. Traveling is done in a more comfortable way by breathing more oxygen, and mountain ascents are ascended by breathing the oxygen, which is light and ascends from the earth.

Oxygen is also used in the treatment of diseases of the heart, lungs, etc., and is a gentle agent to the nervous system.

The London Eng. Lancet, very truthfully says, "The compound oxygen treatment is the greatest discovery of the nineteenth century." Clergymen, Statesmen, Lawyers, Doctors, etc., are using it, and it is recommended by every one who has tried it.

It is a gentle agent to the nervous system.
